LOOKING SOUTH

Location

Along the Southern coast of the State of Mississippi, lies a region richly dowered with natural beauties. In front, the sparkling waters of the Mexican Gulf stretch far away to the south; in the rear, forests of lordly pines, after charging the air with health-giving aroma, serve to ward off the chilling blasts from the north. At the extreme western end of this delightful belt, fifty-two miles from New Orleans by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, the shore line makes a crescent-like curve, and along the picturesque beach of the inlet thus formed, stretches the thriving town of Bay Saint Louis.

Here, surrounded by beauties of nature and art, on rising ground, at one of the horns of the crescent, stands Saint Stanislaus College. Far enough from New Orleans to escape its distractions, Bay Saint Louis is yet close enough to it to enjoy all the conveniences of a large city; and thus combining the double charm of city life with country life, salutary isolation with wholesome climate, the Bay is particularly fitted as a site for an educational institution. In addition, the beautiful buildings, the shaded campus, the balmy sea breezes and the opportunities for bathing afforded by the Gulf, all concur to make the College a delightful home, admirably adapted to promote the health, comfort and intellectual progress of its pupils.

JUNIOR DORMITORY

Buildings and Equipment

Occupying a prominent site overlooking the Bay, with a frontage of 455 feet, St. Stanislaus College proudly rears its cross-crowned domes. The three main buildings run north and south, parallel to the beach. Stoutly constructed of brick, they are provided with numerous openings to secure ample ventilation and light. In the morning, the breeze from the Bay is wafted through every classroom, study hall and dormitory; in the evening, as the sun sinks behind the pines, their health-giving aroma, wending seaward, pervades the length and breadth of these spacious buildings.

Class Rooms and Study Halls

The study halls and the class rooms, all on the ground floors of the main buildings, are equipped with modern school furniture. Each student is provided with an individual desk, both in class and study hall. The distribution of electric fixtures satisfies in every way the requirements of modern lighting.

Dormitories and Lavatories

The dormitories, located on the second floors of the front buildings, are high, spacious and well ventilated rooms, screened throughout and are ideal places for rest. The soft lullaby of the waves on the beach, not a hundred feet away, lulls one to sleep. Adjoining each dormitory are separate lavatories and toilet rooms fitted according to the most exacting sanitary requirements. These airy dormitories and glistening lavatories bear evidence to the fact that in the building of the College, nothing was left out that could tend in any way to the health and comfort of the students.

Chapel

The chapel, a spacious hall with openings on three sides, is situated on the second floor of the principal building. It is furnished with pews of a most attractive and elaborate design. With the help of friends the chapel has been adorned with splendid creations of the artists' handiwork. The handsome Altar is a princely gift of that staunch friend of the College—the Very Reverend Aloysius Van Waesberghe, the former beloved Pastor of Bay Saint Louis. The life-size statues of the Sacred Heart, of the Blessed Virgin, of Saint Joseph and of Saint Stanislaus were imported from Paris and are masterpieces of statuary art. A new Chapel is now building.

Physical and Chemical Laboratories

Physical and chemical laboratories are on the first floor of the south building. Thanks to the generosity of friends of the Institution, the halls are now equipped with sufficient apparatus for intelligent laboratory work. The opportunity is thus afforded the students for individual work, under the direction of trained and experienced instructors.

SAINT STANISLAUS AUDITORIUM

The Gymnasium

The Auditorium or Gymnasium occupies the entire second floor of the North Wing, 125 feet by 64 feet; the dimensions, seating conveniences, mechanical arrangements—all combine to make a basketball court equalled by few and surpassed by none in the South. The lower floor contains two modern class rooms, 25x35, a recreation hall, toilet, baths and spacious galleries. Large dressing rooms with showers for use of athletes and a battery of showers for the student body, give every inducement to proper care of the body. Cleanliness being next to godliness, students of Saint Stanislaus are taught their duty in this line and are given every convenience to fulfill the instructions. There are two hand-ball courts on the west end of the New Gymnasium.

Music Hall

South of the Campus, is the music hall, occupying the entire second floor of a large frame building; it comprises large rooms for instrumental music and vocal rehearsals, besides, a dozen rooms separated by glazed partitions offer advantages of privacy for individual practice.

Dining Rooms

On the first floor of the same building are the dining rooms for Juniors and Seniors. These refectories are large, well ventilated and screened throughout.

The Laundry

A modern Laundry now under construction will handle in a most satisfactory manner all the work of the Institution.

The Library

It is divided into three sections, the Brothers', the Teachers' and the Boys'. The Boys' Library, located in the Seniors' Study Hall, contains upward of 2,000 volumes of choicest English literature. The students devote an hour daily to the reading of some standard author.

The Infirmary

Beyond the spreading oaks, at one extremity of the Senior Campus, and distant from all noise and bustle, is the Infirmary. The indisposed are here placed under the care of an experienced graduate nurse and are visited daily by the attending physician.

Bathing

During the warm season, the waters of the Bay, in front of the College, present a natatorium as extensive as the Gulf. Every day in Summer, the students are allowed, under the care of their respective prefects, to take a refreshing dip in its invigorating waters. The bottom of the Bay, for a long distance out, is shallow, sandy and even. In the usual bathing area, the water is between three and five feet deep. The wharf extends a distance of 1,000 feet into the Bay. It supports, at four different intervals, large platforms fitted with benches for the comfort of the students, who, after supper, during the hot months, go there for about an hour, to enjoy the cool breeze.

HYGIENE

Undue attention to athletics at the expense of studies is not permitted; but, students are required to take part in healthy outdoor sports. Personal cleanliness is exacted by rule, and all students are held to regular bathing and frequent change of clothing.

The college fare is wholesome in quality, abundant in quantity and varied in preparation, and this, supplemented by regular habits, pure air, artesian water and wisely regulated alternations of study and recreation, seldom fails to build up the weakest, or to strengthen the hardiest constitution.

In case of sickness, a competent physician in daily attendance, and an experienced graduate nurse are guarantees of intelligent and assiduous care. However, as soon as serious symptoms begin to develop in any case, the parents of the sick boy are, as a matter of precaution, immediately informed.

Water Works and Fire Protection

The College owns its system of water works. There are on the property four artesian wells sunk at different periods. The last, 1,000 feet deep, has a pressure of 25 pounds at the level of the ground and a flow of 300 gallons per minute. This water supply is piped and distributed over the grounds for the purposes of irrigation, sanitation and fire protection. An analysis of this water, by State Chemist Hand, reveals its excellence as drinking water; it possesses, besides, valuable medicinal properties.

The Campus

Lies directly west of the buildings. It is divided into two sections, one for the Seniors and one for the Juniors. It is a large, level tract of land affording ample room for all kinds of games. Shaded by magnificent, lordly oaks, it is provided with gymnastic apparatus for outdoor exercises. Seats conveniently placed under the trees afford a place of rest to the tired players or a point of vantage to the spectators. The cinder track has been the scene of many a spirited contest.

College Park

A quarter of a mile from the College, in the piney-woods, is the park. It is twelve acres in area, half of which is clear of trees, presenting a smooth, level, grassy lawn on which stretches baseball and football fields. A grand stand, whose seating capacity is over 1,000, was built in 1914. In this park are held the events of field days and school picnics.

Dairy

A herd of prize cattle supply milk and butter to the Institution.

Course of Studies

The Course of Studies is that of a full four year High School, specializing in University Entrance requirements and in Commercial Subjects. A division of courses in the Senior Class enables a student to prepare either for College Entrance or for Commercial Work.

Scientific Course

The Scientific Course pursued by aspirants for College gives sixteen full credits. St. Stanislaus is a State accredited High School. Graduates of the Course are prepared to enter the State Colleges of Mississippi and Louisiana as well as the private Universities, such as Loyola, Tulane, Notre Dame, etc. Within the past few years Stanislaus students have matriculated at Loyola, Tulane, University of Mississippi, Mississippi A. M., West Point, Annapolis, Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech., Mercer, University of Texas, University of Chicago, University of Southern California, University of Florida, Louisiana State University and others.

Commercial Course

The Commercial Course prepares for Business life. It includes Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting, Commercial Law, Business English and Business Arithmetic.

Objective of Saint Stanislaus College

The primary End of the College is to train Christian gentlemen by the harmonious and co-ordinate development of the heart, the mind and the body, and the secondary end is to qualify them for the commercial world or for professional life.

In the pursuit of these ends, the Faculty leave untried no means which devotedness and enlightened policy can suggest. Realizing that Religion is the true basis of education and an integral part of life, the Brothers teach it by example and precept, and its principles are inculcated as the foundation upon which all sound education must be based. A Chaplain ministers to the spiritual needs of the Brothers and Students. Though uncompromisingly Catholic, in tone and teaching, the College welcomes moral students of other denominations and leaves their religious opinions unrestricted. However, for the sake of order and discipline, such students are required to assist at the ordinary exercises of public worship.

SESSION

The scholastic year lasts from 36 to 38 weeks, beginning during the second week of September, and closing on the second Sunday of June. It is divided into two nearly equal terms, the second of which begins in mid January.

ADMISSION

Though students are received at any time during the year, parents and guardians are reminded that it will materially conduce to the contentment as well as progress of their sons or wards to enter them at the beginning of the session. Applicants unknown to any of the Faculty should be properly introduced or recommended.

No student can be accepted below the fourth grade.

No new student is accepted to enter the Graduating Class.

Discipline and Methods

The system of government is that of a well-regulated family; and the Faculty, as replacing the parents, insist on uniform compliance with the established rules of discipline. However, the students being at all times under the supervision of a prefect, infractions of the rules are, in a great measure, prevented. To further the aim of better discipline, the College has provided separate dormitories, study halls, dining rooms and playgrounds for all students under the age of fifteen. Gentlemanly conduct is required of the students at all times and in all places, and they are moreover strictly held to observe towards themselves, their companions and their superiors, those courtesies which are the distinguishing marks of a Christian gentleman.

Each class carries but one grade and is under the management of one Brother who teaches all the branches in the grade. This system insures better personal knowledge of the students, better attention to their individual needs and better results.

A well-defined and detailed program determines the amount of work to be performed monthly in each classroom. Frequent visits from the President to the classroom guarantee its execution.

While appealing to the high moral incentives to spur students to the performance of duty, the Brothers rely much on emulation as the touchstone of success in a student's life. The Faculty, by means of awards properly bestowed, and demerits justly given, have succeeded in establishing a system that stirs laudable ambition in the student from the opening day of the session to the close of the scholastic term.

Weekly Reports

Each week's attendance, supplemented by correct recitation and excellent conduct, entitles the student to 100 merits for application from his teacher, and 100 merits for conduct from his prefect. Any faulty recitation, or breach of the rules of gentlemanly deportment, entails the loss of one or more merits in the corresponding branch. A weekly report of both application to study and deportment is forwarded to parents or guardians.

By means of "extras," the student is enabled to make up for merits lost. These "extras," ten a week, are allowed for fine points of conduct or for certain well-defined class work, over and above what is required, or for extra diligence in doing the work assigned.

A student whose average for application is 105 merits a week for the entire session is entitled to compete for the gold medal given in his class. A student whose average is 105 merits a week for conduct for the entire session, is entitled to compete for the gold medal given for deportment in his division.

Twice a year, in January and June, examinations are held in the various departments, the results of which are sent to Parents or Guardians.

These examinations serve as a basis for the reorganization of the classes for the ensuing session.

LOOKING TOWARDS THE GULF

The Students' Counsellor

One of the Brothers of the Faculty is appointed as Counsellor or adviser of the students. It is his duty to co-operate with the Chaplain in directing the spiritual activities of the school, and to keep in contact with the various societies and sodalities. : : : : : : : :

He is in a special sense the friend and adviser of the Students, not only in matter spiritual, but also material and temporal:—in their studies, their social duties, and in other intimate and personal matters as each one may wish. His hours are arranged to make him at all times accessible to the Students. : :

It is of prime importance to a boy in boarding school that he have a friend and counsellor to whom he can turn in time of need; one who is trained in the solution of boys' problems and whose interest and devotion are unselfish.

Advantages of a Boarding School

Regularity.

Every hour of the day is occupied. Proper alternations of study and recreation periods train the boy in regularity. Long hours of sleep with early retiring and regular hour of rising are invaluable in building a boy mentally as well as physically.

Correction and guidance by others than parents. A parent is often handicapped in curing inherited faults of disposition.

In a boarding school the Instructors have an opportunity to study the boy, out of class hours, for seven days in the week not merely during the five hours of class for five days of the week. Two thirds of the boy's waking hours are spent outside of the classroom. His character study and development are continuous processes.

In a boarding school a boy easily learns self-reliance.

Besides broadening the circle of his acquaintance a boy in boarding school, by his close contact and companionship with many boys of varied characters learns the art of "give and take" an essential to success either in business or in professional life.

Advantages of Saint
Advantages of Saint Stanislaus College

An ideal location on Mississippi's charming Gulf Coast, overlooking the waters of the Bay of Saint Louis.

Close proximity to a large city with all the advantages this affords. Bay Saint Louis is fifty-two miles east of New Orleans and is served by nine daily trains each way.

Artesian water, fresh milk from the College Dairy, well-prepared wholesome food, a resident trained nurse and a doctor in daily attendance all contribute to the remarkable health record that Saint Stanislaus enjoys.

Saint Stanislaus is entering its seventy-sixth year. Neither politics nor ever-changing fads affect its principles of discipline. The experience of scores of years of a Community of men devoted solely to education give Saint Stanislaus an unsurpassed advantage. But, withal Saint Stanislaus is up-to-date in every respect and continues to keep abreast of the times.

The discipline is not that of constraint which breeds only fear of punishment and which teaches that guilt is in "being caught". The men especially entrusted with character formation are always accessible to the boys and the students are urged to seek aid and encouragement in conquering defects and in building noble traits of character.

Everything at Saint Stanislaus is of the highest grade, yet the terms are most reasonable, as the Faculty is composed of men who are giving their lives without any financial remuneration to make such schools possible.

You would not buy an expensive machine without a guarantee of service after the machine had left the salesroom. Saint Stanislaus provides this "Service" by helping and guiding its graduates even when school-days are over. Contact is kept by personal visits, by correspondence, by Homecoming Days, by Alumni Reunions, etc. It is a proven fact that this keeps in mind the principles and high ideals inculcated at Saint Stanislaus.

Plan of Studies

The Scholastic matter is divided into two departments: The Grammar School and the High School.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

The program of studies in this department prepares the student for the higher courses. Those who have completed it are entitled to enter the High School Department. This course includes the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

HIGH SCHOOL DEPARTMENT

This department is designed to impart a well-rounded education. It fits those who complete it to enter Universities preparing for the learned professions, or to follow successfully a business career.

In the first two years of this course the Standard High School Program is followed. In the third year some Commercial Studies are introduced. The fourth year is divided into two departments:

THE SCIENTIFIC

In this Department only those studies required for College Entrance are retained, in order that a graduate be well fitted to pursue a College Course. Completion of the course gives sixteen full units besides giving the student a working knowledge of Shorthand and four years of French or Spanish.

THE COMMERCIAL

This course is designed for those who are to enter Commercial Life. It gives a thorough knowledge of Shorthand, Typewriting, Commercial Law, Business English, Business Arithmetic and Bookkeeping. This is superior to the ordinary business course as it has a regular High School education as a solid foundation. No student is admitted to the Course without full credit for three years of High School work.

AMETUR COR JESU!

The League
The Sacred Heart

The College being directed by the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, they naturally strive to make a manly devotion toward that Divine Heart a distinguishing mark of their students. Among the means to accomplish this end the League of the Sacred Heart holds a leading place. The College has been canonically created a Local Centre, and all the Catholic students, without a single exception, are members of this meritorious association. The good wrought during the past years has been a matter of deep consolation, and the Brothers attribute to a great extent, the exemplary conduct and Catholic spirit among their students to the blessings radiating from that benign Heart.

Sodality of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin under the protection of Saint Stanislaus

This Sodality, canonically established by the Ordinary of the Diocese, December 8, 1878, is a branch of the Arch-Confraternity under the same title in Rome.

Its chief ends are:

1st. To propagate devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

2nd. To afford to each Sodalist spiritual assistance and encouragement, thereby facilitating the attainment of virtue and Christian piety.

The general meeting of the whole Sodality is held every Saturday. This meeting includes spiritual, business and social features.

The Sodality promotes a feeling of personal responsibility and initiative, and through the leadership in the central committee and in subordinate committees the Sodalists actually learn leadership and practice it.

The Central Committee and the subordinate committees meet every week to treat of matters concerning the proper administration of the Sodality.

The good resulting from these pious exercises and frequent reception of the Sacraments has been most gratifying.

Music

The work in this department is thorough and satisfactory. The students are taught to love the "Art Divine" and to regard its study as a privilege.

For years the excellence of our musical training has been admitted on all sides, and it is the earnest effort of the management to preserve and increase this enviable reputation. This Department is under the direction of Rev. Brother Oliver, a graduate of the Indiana Conservatory of Music.

Athletic Association

College Colors: Cardinal and Black

The Brothers in charge of the College, persuaded that physical training forms an integral part of a comprehensive education, view with pleasure any reasonable sports which tend to develop the strength, skill and physique of the students. Class lessons in calisthenics and out door athletics are given daily.

The College campus is an extensive and turfy tract, comprising about twelve acres of ground. Of this, about six acres is in a pine grove, where those not inclined to hard sports may find abundant amusement.

The genial climate permits outdoors exercise throughout the year. Football and basketball are the attractions during the winter months, but with the advent of spring term the students devote their spare time to becoming experts in the national game.

THE CHARLES JAUBERT MEDAL

Is awarded to the student of Saint Stanislaus who is most valuable to his College in athletic competition during the session.

JUNIOR YARD FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Saint Stanislaus Basketball Team

The whole South thrilled last March when the Saint Stanislaus Varsity basketball team was battling the pick of the nation's High School teams in the annual National Tournament at Loyola University in Chicago.

Thirty-two teams representing twenty-eight States competed for the National crown. The Saint Stanislaus team went to the finals and lost the decision to the De laSalle quintet of Chicago.

Alumni Association

Saint Stanislaus College

The objects of this Association are: 1st To preserve and to increase the filial affection which former students bear to their Alma Mater, Saint Stanislaus, and to encourage them to further its interests as far as lies in their power. 2nd To renew and perpetuate the friendships of younger days. 3rd To provide its members with the advice and help of sincere and trustworthy friends.

The Association meets formally once a year, on the first Sunday of June. This meeting is held at the College and includes a business session, the annual banquet and a baseball game between the Alumni and the College team.

The Next Session will begin
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9th, 1929

From August 26th until the opening day the College maintains an office at the Roosevelt Hotel, MAin 3920.

Parents whose sons come through New Orleans should notify us, that we may meet the train and take charge of the boys as they reach New Orleans.

On Monday, September 9th, special cars are provided on the L. & N. train, leaving at 3:30 P. M. Members of the Faculty are there to assume charge of students.
